DIRTY STREETS CAUSE COMPLAINT AT OGDEN

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Sept. 15 -The attention of the sanitary inspector is called to the horrible condition of Washington avenue and I wenty-fifth street. Piles of filth are alowed to remain in the gutter obstructing the flow of water and creating a stench that is unbearable.

The Street committee of the City Counell is respectfully asked to investigate the matter and relieve this nuisance.

John Fly, a negro, was arrested by officer Herrick last night for stealing a

Elmer Duncan, who was brought in over the S.P. lest night, supposedly fa-tally injured, is still alive and resting easily. He has an even chance for re-covery.

A man named Byers was brought to the hospital at Ogden tonight suffering from a bad cut on the head and other injuries about the body. Byers was an engineer on the S. P. and fell from his cao. His injuries will not prove fatal.

George Gordon was picked up by the police tonight in a badly mutilated condition.

County Clerk Hollingsworth and his deputies are busily engaged in preparing for the coming registration. The dates fixed for registration are October II, 12 and 18 and November 1 and 2

A man giving the name of Alex Ham-merbach was arrested this morning for attempting to pass a counterfeit $29 gold plece at the Board of Trade saloon.

A marriage license was issued today to David Peterson of Bear River City and Meliasa Merrili of Brigliam.

William Baker, a prominent resident of Hooper, was seriously injured yesterday by being thrown from a wagon. Three ribs were broken and he was injured internally.

The following matters came before Judge Rolapp in the District court today: Harriet Irwin was granted a decree of livorce from W. C. Irwin, on the ground of fallure to provide.

R. S. Davis was arraigned on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and his hearing set for October 31.

In the matter of the estate of Peter C. Hansen, bonds of administrator reduced to $4300.

W. R. Foley, who was a resident of Og-len about twelve years ago, is the guest of E. O. and W. H. Wattis. Mr. Foley has been successful in mining ventures about Cripple Creek and Victor. His of-fices are now in Denver, and he is return-ing home after a visit to California and Nevada.

Deputy Sheriff Butler of Salt Lake came to Ogden today and took back with him Raioh Douglass, wanted in that city for burglary.

Beet-digging began here today, and the farmers who have recoived orders to dig are sending them in as fast as possible, as the indications are such that everybody looks forward to an early fall. The bests taken in are of good size and quality, and are turning out well. Orders to dig about seventy-five acres have been given in Pudtown and the Old Fields. The City Council of Payson will meet next Monday at the city hall to consider plans and prices for the installation of a new electric light plant in Payson. If the Council can decide favorably it will call a meeting of citizens to consider the advisability of issuing bonds to put in the new plant. The present plant is insufficient to furnish all the light necessary. For the last three or four years the town has been without electric lights during the winter months, just the time they are needed most.

Miss Jennie Wilson has returned from a visit to the World's fair.

COALVILLE, Sept. 15.—An excursion was run from Sait Lake. Ogden and intermediate points to Coalville yesterday, under the aispices of the Weber Reservoir. Power and Irrigation company. The object of the excursion was to give the people in the lower valleys an opportunity to look over the site of the proposed reservoir. Nearly 700 persons occupied the ten cars that pulled into Echo about 1220. When the reservoir site was reached about a mile south of Echo, a stop of half an hour was made and the excursionists walked over the ground where the great dam is to be built. They were then taken to the Coalville city park, where lunch was provided for the visitors. A short meeting was held in the stake tabernacle, presided over by Moxes W. Taylor, president of the reservoir company. An address of welcome was made by Mayor Croft; instrumental music, Miss Mattle Salmon, speech, John M. Barnes of Kaysville; chorus, twelve little girls, under the direction of Mrs Frank Evans; speech, President Middleton of Ogden; solo, John Robinson of Sait Lake, speech, T. L. Allen; quartette, John Lamb, I. M. Shaw, J. D. and J. H. Barber; music, brass band.

At the city park a lively game of baseball was played by the Morgan and Hoytsville teams, the latter being successful by a score of 8 to 7. A number of wild horses had been brought in from the range and these were saddled and ridden and fundan and furnished a great deal of amusement for the excursionists.

EAGLES CAPTURE BALTIMORE

Grand Aerie of Order in Session in Maryland City.

Maryland City.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—The Eagles were in presession of Baltimore throughout the day. Grande aerie members devoted their time teday to business, but the visitors from distant cities spent the time in sightseeing. Tonight a constant stream of pedestrians, men, women and children, lined the sidewalks of the principal thoroughfares, which were illiminated by thousands of electric lights.

The grand aerie of the order will continue in secsion until late Friday night and possibly may remain over Sunday. At today's session of the governing body the report of the committee on judiciary was considered. A metlon was passed declaring it the sense of the grand aerie that State conventions should be permitted and a constitution adopted providing for such conventions, permitting them to organize as State aeries and pass laws not in conflict with grand aerie powers. It was resolved that persons more than 50 years of age may become social but not beneficiary members of the order, and that an applicant must have been a resident of the community at least six months before becoming eligible to membership.

It was stated tonight that the election of grand officors will be held tomorrow. PARK CITY, Sept. 15.-At the New ork mine things are looking well. Some e specimens of ore from there were brought down town and exhibited last evening. It is believed from present appearances that the mine will sustain itself and that no further assessments will be required. Dan B. Shields was an outgoing passen-ger to Salt Lake this afternoon

It was stated tonight that the election of grand officers will be held tomorrow. The result of the ballots probably will not be announced until late tomorrow night.
